EXPEDITION MICRO CRUISES

Because smaller means more freedom.

Dear Explorers,

Let us introduce ourselves.

We are a company founded, owned, and operated by explorers. Many years ago we set our eyes on the beauty of the polar regions and were struck by a feeling like no other.

Inspired by the heroic explorers of the past, we want to share real expeditions with you. Adventures that satisfy our craving to discover a world far bigger than the one we encounter daily – and explore it with appreciation, time, and respect.

We've dedicated ourselves to pioneering carefully crafted Expedition Micro Cruises, unforgettable experiences which encourage you to discover the true magic of the polar regions.

We will forever be grateful to explore such unique and powerful environments. We hope you will feel the same at the end of this journey with us.

Welcome to the Secret Atlas family.

Michele D'Agostino and Mariano Curiel
Secret Atlas owners

Fuelled by the long-lost spirit of exploration

At Secret Atlas, we venture into the vast, unpredictable wilderness, where nature leaves a lasting impression. Rather than trying to compete with its vastness or tame its unpredictability, we embrace them. That's why we pioneered the Expedition Micro Cruise, itinerary-free explorations offering the smallest group sizes at both poles.

With just 12 guests, our small ships reach places large vessels can't, allowing for deeper connections, no obstruction to self-discovery, and immersive experiences in the world's most treasured environments.

For us, less is more. Less waiting, more time exploring. Fewer crowds, greater adventure. Join us, and discover the world with purpose.

Following the footsteps of giants...

Scott. Shackleton. Amundsen. Mawson. Bancroft.

When we explore the polar regions, we follow in the footsteps of giants. Their spirit of adventure guides us.

We're adaptable, letting ice, wildlife, and weather shape our evolving itineraries. Our agile Expedition Micro Cruises reach places larger ships can't. They offer both home comforts and the ultimate luxury – the freedom and time to explore.

Leading in responsible travel, we create journeys that inspire self-discovery and deep connections – with nature, each other, and ourselves.

...leaving small footprints.

When you explore the polar regions, you gain a newfound respect for them – and feel an overwhelming urge to protect them.

Explore. Respect. Protect. It's in our DNA.

That's why we travel in small groups. It's more responsible, minimising our footprint and preserving these fragile environments.

And to help with our impact goals, rather than just talking about change, we seek out partnerships that make a real difference.

“We’re set on keeping the wilderness wild!”

– Mariano Curiel, Secret Atlas partner

How do you want to see the world?

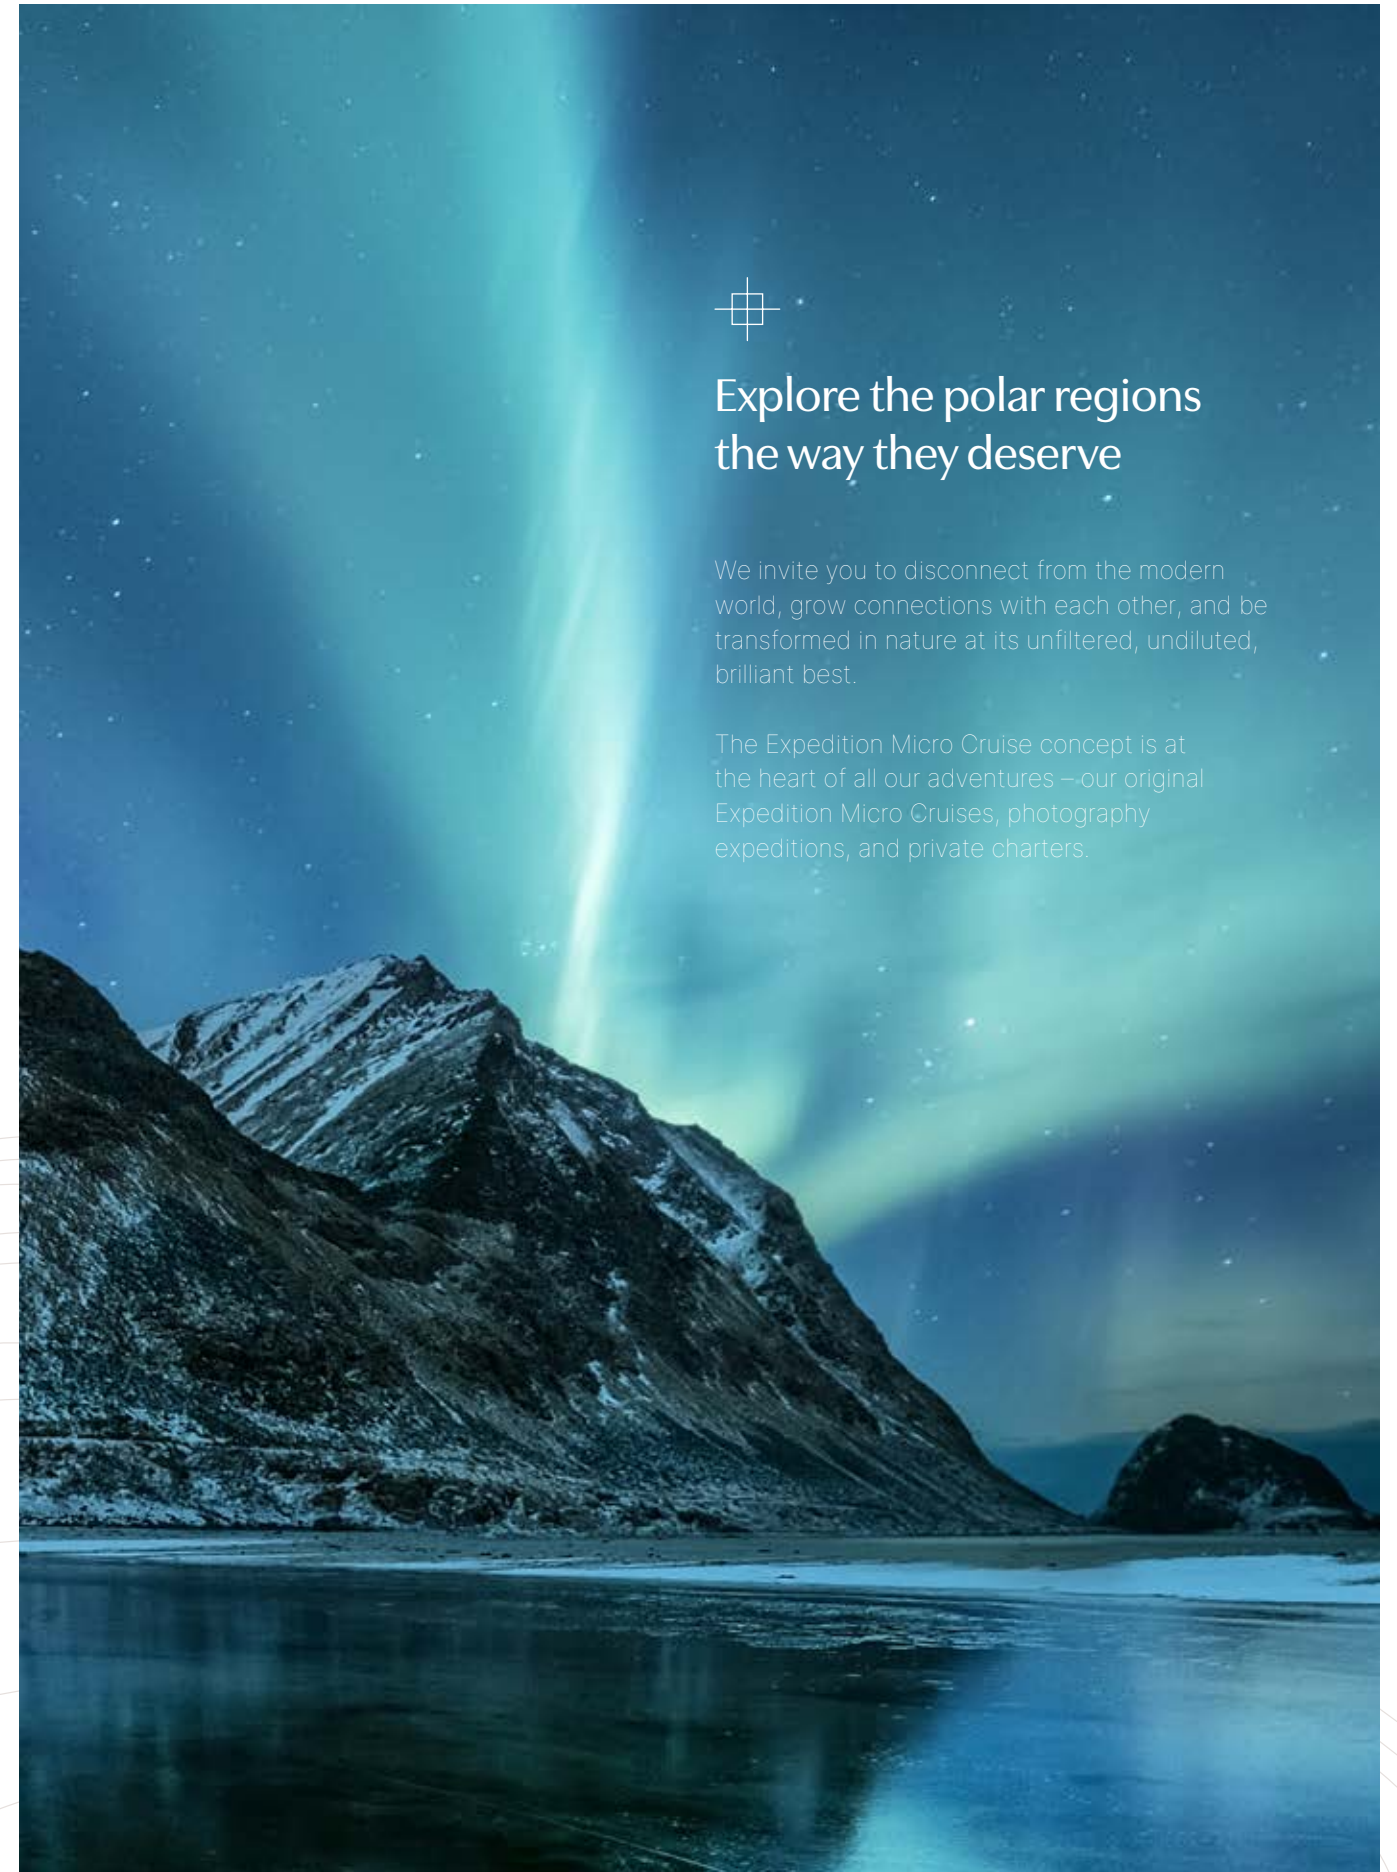

There are many ways to explore the polar regions.
But not all are created equal...

The Expedition Micro Cruise concept Not just small. Micro.

Designed by explorers, for explorers, our revolutionary Expedition Micro Cruise concept offers the smallest group sizes at both poles.

- ▶ Genuinely small group sizes at both poles, for the most intimate and transformative experience
- ▶ Expedition leaders and guides with decades of polar experience and hundreds of expeditions between them
- ▶ No queueing for Zodiac cruises and shore landings
- ▶ Itineraries that evolve to maximise opportunities presented by ice, wildlife, and weather.
- ▶ Comfortable accommodations, where the real luxury is the freedom and time to explore

Explore the polar regions the way they deserve

We invite you to disconnect from the modern world, grow connections with each other, and be transformed in nature at its unfiltered, undiluted, brilliant best.

The Expedition Micro Cruise concept is at the heart of all our adventures – our original Expedition Micro Cruises, photography expeditions, and private charters.

A wide-angle landscape photograph showing a person in the lower-left foreground, wearing a pink jacket and dark pants, holding a camera and looking towards a vast, colorful landscape. The landscape features a series of terraced, eroded hills in shades of brown, tan, and white, leading down to a body of water. In the background, large, rugged mountains with patches of snow rise under a clear blue sky. The text "Our expeditions" is overlaid in white on the right side of the image.

Our expeditions

Expedition Micro Cruises

See the world at its best on the original Expedition Micro Cruise.

Inspired by intrepid expeditions of the past, we only sail with small groups – the smallest at both poles – on agile, strong ships that go deep into the pack ice, where other vessels can't.

The biggest luxury we provide is the freedom to explore nature – without limits, filters, or time constraints. Our truly small ship expeditions have no fixed itinerary. Instead, we listen to nature and take the opportunities it presents, creating transformative experiences in the planet's last great wildernesses.

CHARTERING THE ICE

If Mother Nature allows, step off the ship and onto the pack ice for a truly surreal feeling.

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Visit locations of great scientific interest and learn about the importance and fragility of the poles.

An aerial photograph of a frozen body of water, likely a fjord or bay. The water is a deep, dark teal color. The ice is broken up into numerous large, irregular floes of varying sizes, some of which are covered in a thin layer of snow. Two small, dark-colored inflatable boats are visible in the lower left quadrant, each carrying several people. The overall scene is serene and remote. The text "Expedition Micro Cruises" is overlaid on the right side of the image in a white, serif font. There are also some faint, thin, curved lines and numbers (30, 45, 50, 60) overlaid on the image, possibly representing depth or distance markers.

An aerial photograph of a massive glacier. A large, irregular pool of bright blue water is situated on the upper left side of the glacier's surface. Below this pool, a wide, powerful waterfall cascades down a steep ice face into a dark, turbulent body of water at the bottom. The glacier's surface is textured with various shades of white, light blue, and dark blue, indicating different ice layers and meltwater channels. Several thin, wavy, light-colored lines are overlaid on the right side of the image, creating a sense of movement or flow.

Choose your own adventure.

Tell us where you want to go, when you want to travel, and what you want to experience, and we'll work with you to create a life-changing expedition. We'll lend you our expertise – gained across hundreds of polar expeditions – along with a ship, crew, and guiding team.

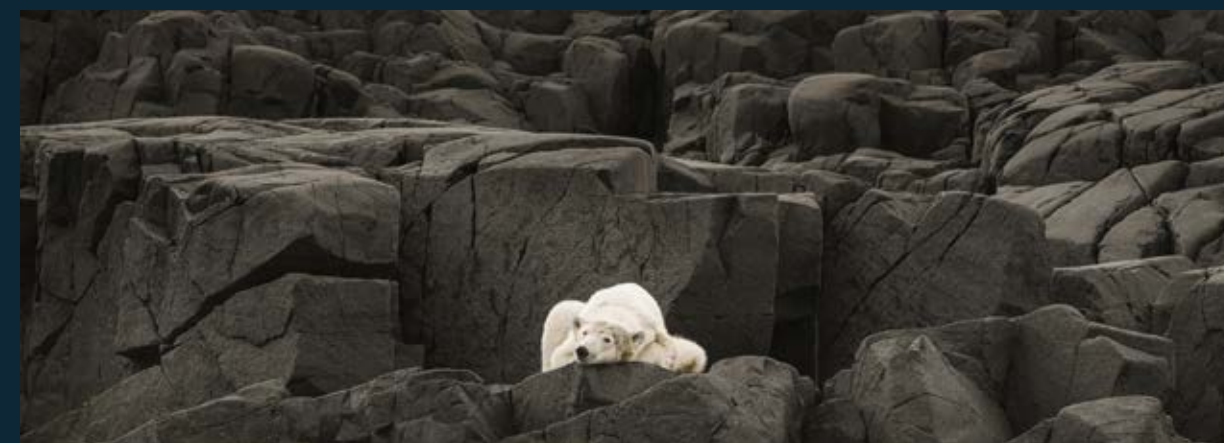

We love collaborating with our guests. But if you want to leave it to the experts, that's OK, too. Just choose your "crew" of family, friends, and colleagues, and we'll take care of the rest.

FAMILIES

Bring the family together for the ultimate wildlife adventure, meeting the magnificent creatures that thrive in the boundlessly beautiful wildernesses above the Arctic Circle.

Marvel at polar bears hunting seals on the pack ice in northern Svalbard. Witness whales feeding in the fairytale fjords of Northern Norway. Meet the otherworldly musk ox, surveying her icy domain in East Greenland.

Nothing unites the passions of everyone from children to great-grandparents like spotting unique wildlife in its remote, high-drama habitat. Nothing brings families together like a shared adventure.

Get the kids (and parents!) off their screens, exploring the world together on a holiday like no other.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Point your cameras to the heavens and capture the sky at its most beautiful on a private northern lights photography tour with family and friends.

The Arctic is known as the “Land of the Midnight Sun”. But as summer turns to autumn and the sun finally sets, the night sky comes alive with the otherworldly lights of the aurora borealis. Capturing them is the dream of shutterbugs great and small, pro and beginner, young and old.

Your professional photographer guide will help you and your “crew” make the most of each shimmering second, capturing this beautiful natural phenomenon in images – and memories – that will never fade.

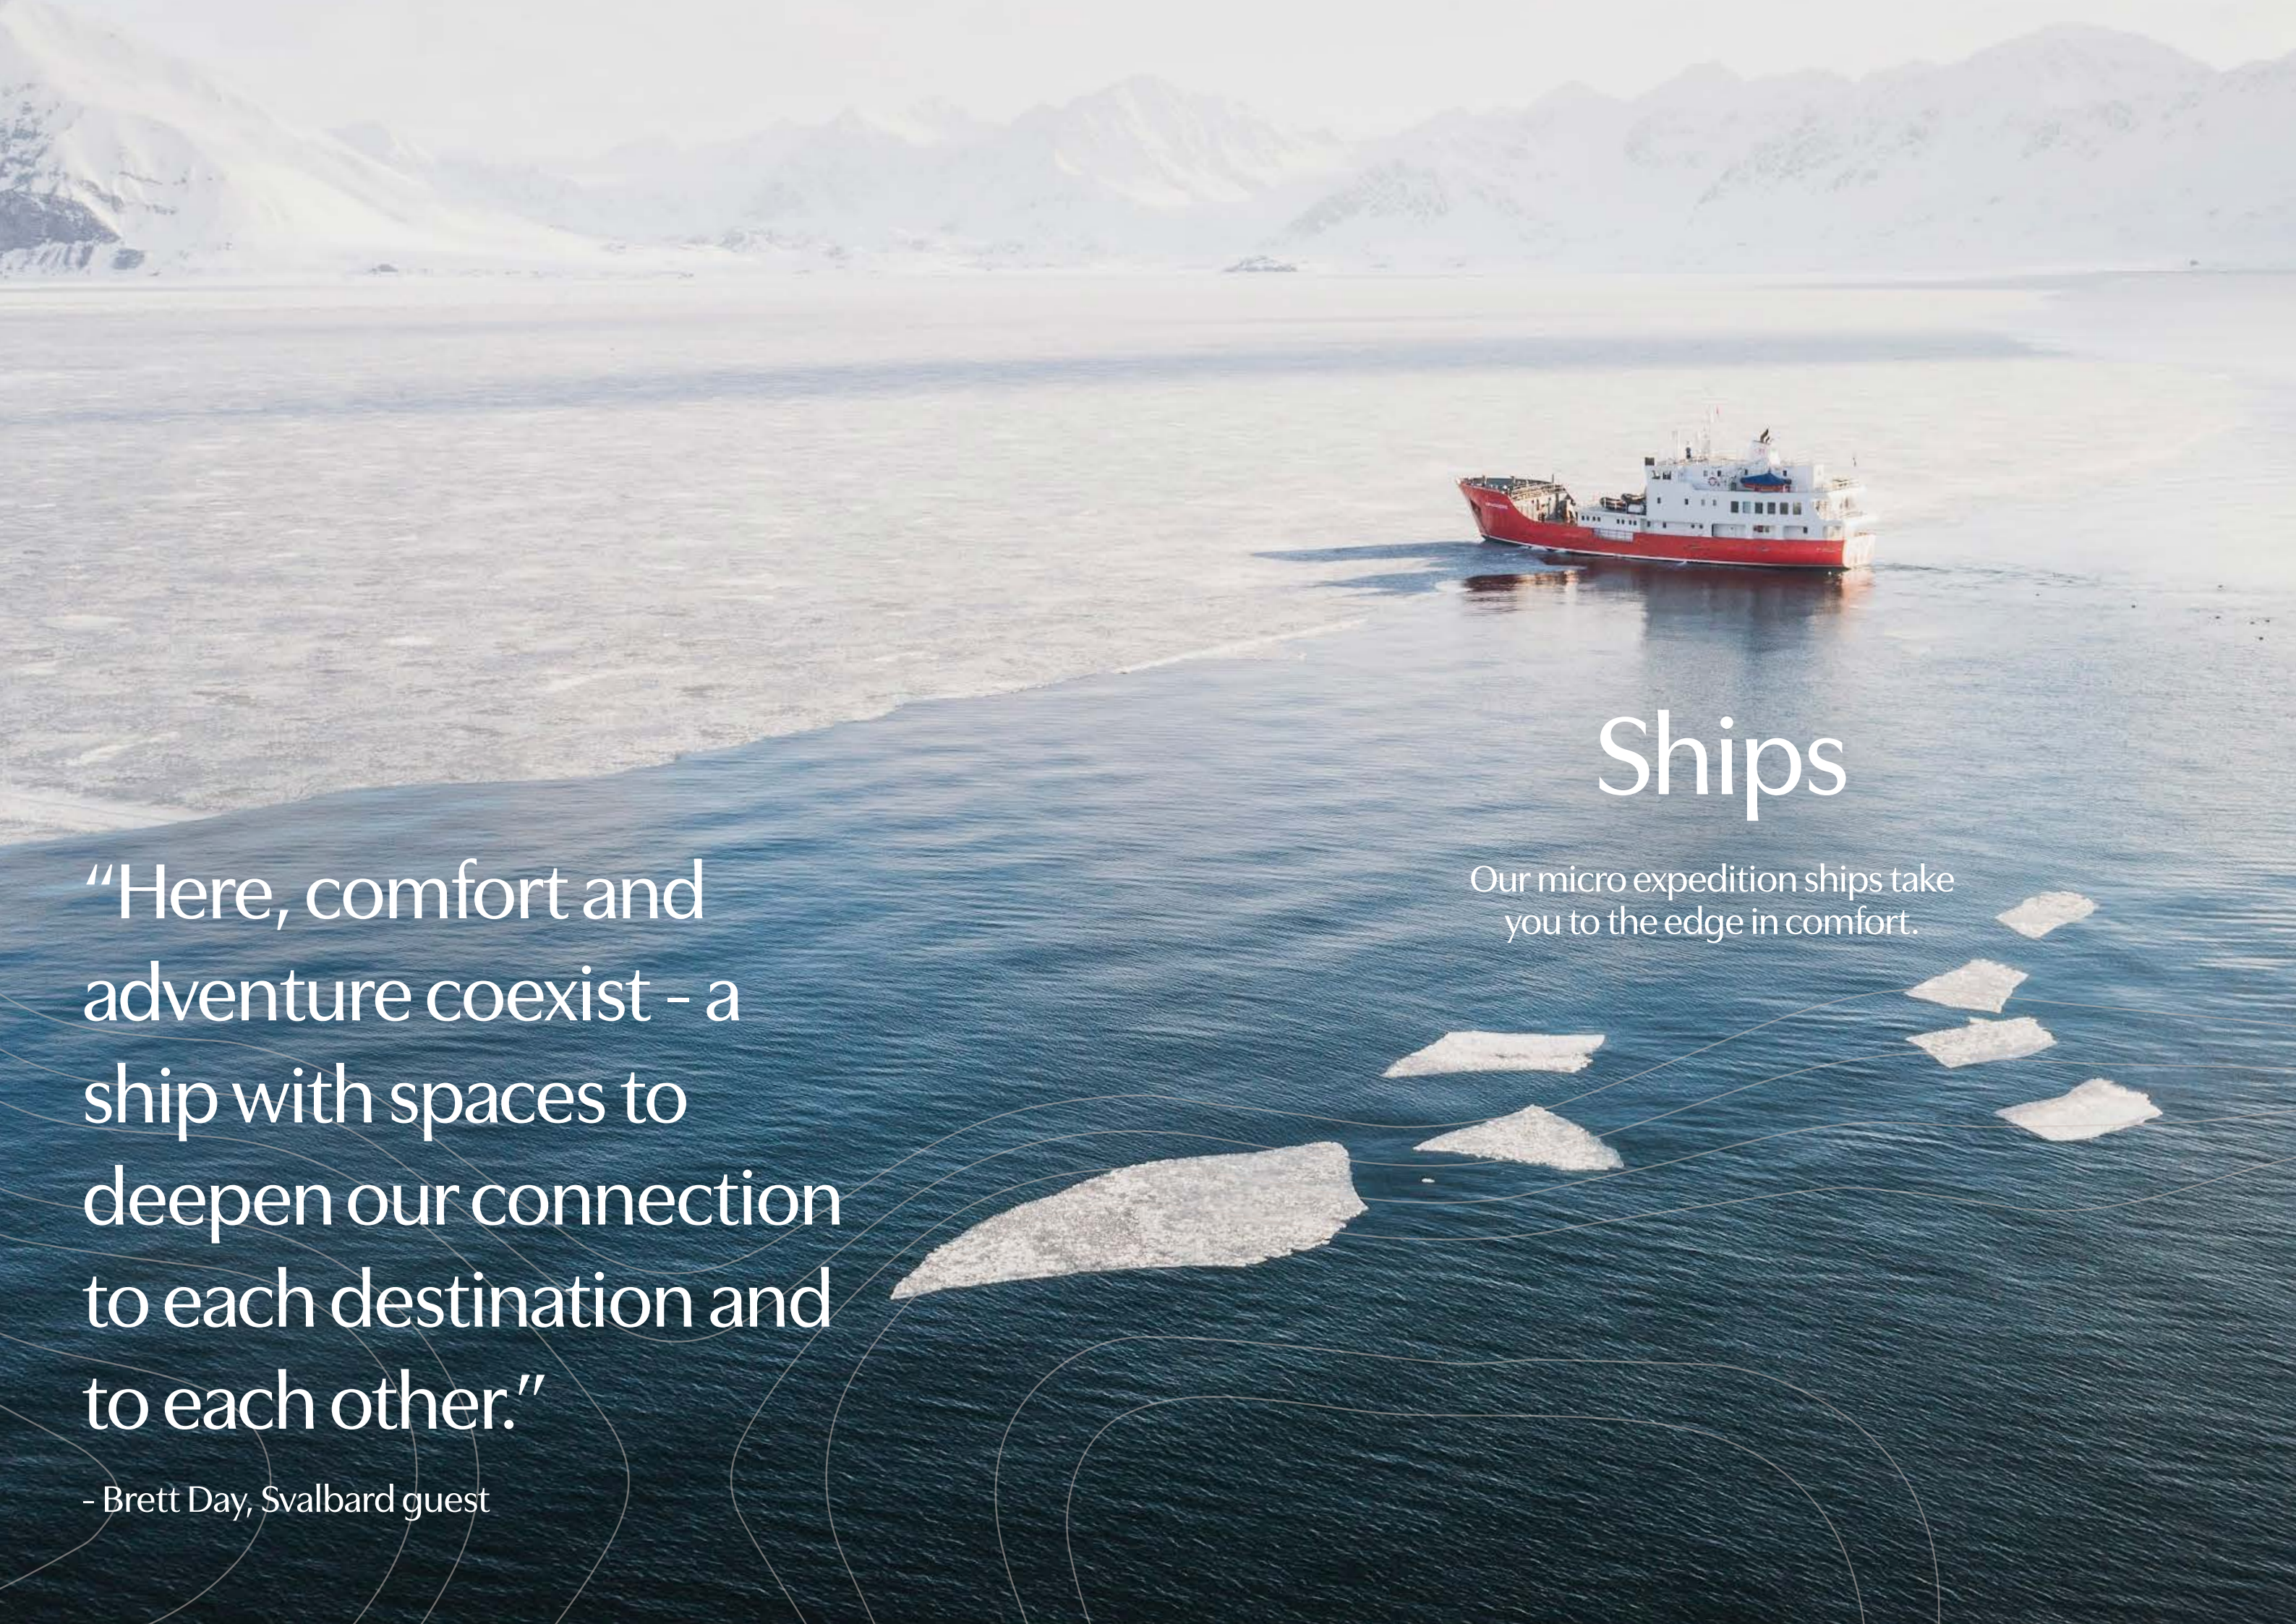

ADRENALINE JUNKIES

Sail up and ski down: this exhilarating private expedition combines the best of skiing and sailing in one.

Touch down on remote shores, hike up breathtaking mountains, and carve your way down untouched slopes back to the coast... where your private ship will be waiting to whisk you and your party off to the next unforgettable run.

No crowded slopes, no queueing for the lift. Just ski, sail, repeat.
